PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND

David Hill is the Regional Managing Director at Saunders Real Estate in Fayetteville, Arkansas.

With an impressive career spanning various high-level sales roles, David holds a wealth of experience in sales and business development. As Regional Managing Director, he plays a pivotal role in leading the company's growth and success in the Arkansas real estate market.

Before joining the brokerage, David significantly contributed to the expansion of Pursuit Sales Solutions, where he helped grow the company from a fledgling startup to one of the nation's largest sales recruiting agencies. As the company's first Vice President of Sales, his efforts helped grow the company to over 70 employees and exceed $12 million in annual revenue. Prior to that position, David served tenure at National Oilwell Varco, where he was dedicated to new business development and notably achieved a more than 25% revenue increase in his territory during the challenging 2015 oil and gas downturn.

David's experience in building and leading sales teams, coupled with his insight into market dynamics, positions him uniquely to navigate the complexities of the land real estate market. His background in scaling operations and penetrating new markets is directly applicable to managing and expanding his clients' portfolios.

A proud alumnus of the University of Arkansas, David graduated with a degree in Marketing from the Sam Walton College of Business. During his time at university, he was an active member of the Omega Omega chapter of Sigma Chi, which helped foster relationships that remain significant to him.

David's personal and professional life is deeply guided by his Christian faith, and he integrates these teachings into every aspect of his life. He resides in Fayetteville with his wife Alex, daughter Halle, and their bird dog Tess. When not brokering land deals, David enjoys golfing, fishing, and hunting, as well as cheering on the Arkansas Razorbacks and the Atlanta Braves.
